Baguio to hold flower fest despite DOH request

Baguio City will hold its annual flower festival despite a request from the Department of Health (DOH) to postpone the event, officials here said.

The Baguio City government said it will hold the 2008 Baguio Flower Festival from May 23 to 25, 2008, at the Baguio Convention Center. The festival is one of the major events in the city and is expected to attract thousands of tourists.

DOH officials expressed concern that the festival might spread the H1N1 virus, which has been spreading in the Philippines. They requested the city government to postpone the event until the situation is under control.

However, the city government officials said that the festival is a long-standing tradition and is an important source of income for the city. They said they will take all necessary precautions to ensure the safety of the participants and visitors.

Thousands of people are expected to attend the Baguio Flower Festival, despite the DOH request to postpone the event.

Figure 1 consists of 16 line graphs arranged in a 4x4 grid. Each graph plots 'Days since start of study' on the X-axis (0 to 100) against 'Days since start of study' on the Y-axis (0 to 100). The graphs are labeled by 'Study' (rows 1-4) and 'Group' (columns 1-4). The trends vary significantly: some show a steady increase, others a decrease, and some show a sharp drop at the end of the study. For example, in Study 1, Group 1, the trend is a steady increase from 0 to 100. In Study 4, Group 4, the trend is a sharp drop from 100 to 0 at the end of the study.
